EDUCATION

Bachelor of Science (Computer Science and Numerical Methods), Brighton College of Technology

Janet enjoys working with clients to provide systems and processes to facilitate efficient data collection, management, analysis and reporting. She bridges the divide between IT and policy to ensure we develop user-friendly data collection systems that are readily accessible and able to be refined easily. To do this, she draws on the skills and experience she gained running her own IT consulting company for over twenty years, prior to joining ARTD in 2002.
