Simon is a highly experienced Aboriginal practitioner and policy analyst with specialist expertise in Aboriginal service delivery systems and frameworks. He is skilled in service design, evaluation, program development and management. He has led major change initiatives across the housing, health, mental health, community and family services sectors. Simon is widely acknowledged for his ability to bring Aboriginal perspectives to policy development, service design and program evaluations.

I thrive on developing genuine, respectful relationships with the services and clients I work with and building working partnerships that put client needs first. I believe in investing in quality relationships between governments, services and communities that build on principles of collaboration, co-design, capacity building and empowerment.

SIMON JORDAN

DIRECTOR OF ABORIGINAL PROJECTS AND PARTNERSHIPS

PROGRAM EVALUATION

Simon has managed a range of evaluations and reviews, leading high-level Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal stakeholder and community consultations, workshop facilitation, project development and report writing.

- » Aboriginal Outcomes Strategy evaluation (NSW Department of Family and Community Services [FACS], 2019–22): Developing a program logic and evaluation framework for the AOS and evaluating early implementation and outcomes.
- » Aboriginal Evidence Building Partnerships (Their Futures Matter, 2018–19): Partnering with Kinchela Boys Home Aboriginal Corporation, Winanga-li Aboriginal Child and Family Centre, Illawarra Aboriginal Corporation, Abcare and Tirkandi Inaburra to build their evaluative capacity.
- » Young Mob Youth Leadership Program evaluation (World Vision, 2017–19): managing the two-year evaluation to assess impact and inform future up-scaling of the program.
- » Future Directions in Housing evaluation (FACS, 2019): Supported the Aboriginal framework development and consultation processes.
- » Aboriginal Patient Review and Quality Improvement Review (St. Vincent's Hospital, 2017).

POLICY AND PROGRAM DESIGN AND SECTOR DEVELOPMENT

Simon has extensive experience developing strategies and Aboriginal service delivery and community service frameworks.

- » Intensive Family Based Service program development and management (FACS, 2004–13): Developed the IFBS program model and led the rollout of services across NSW including four new IFBS services in the non-government sector. Simon was awarded the Director General's Aboriginal Outstanding Achievement Award for this work.
- » New and Enhanced Service Models (ACS, 2004–13): Developed and managed four major projects for Keep Them Safe, valued at over $20 million over five years including two new Protecting Aboriginal Children Together pilot projects in the non-government sector.
- » Reform of NSW Child Protection system (FACS, 2009–13): Led major reform initiatives targeting Aboriginal families in response to the Keep Them Safe report, including developing a ground-breaking Memorandum of Understanding between the Aboriginal child welfare sector, Aboriginal peak organisations and FACS, to implement Keep them Safe.
- » Aboriginal Employment and Development Framework (FACS, 2010–13): Led the development and implementation of the policy framework, including the development of strategies, partnerships, performance measures and accountabilities.
