

Aiden Green | Analyst

Aiden joined ARTD in January 2026 after completing his studies at the University of Sydney in International Relations, specialising in Country Risk Analysis. His background in humanities has given him strong skills in writing and research, as well as a dedication to historically informed and creative ways of thinking.

Aiden assists with projects across multiple sectors including education, health and disability and primary industries. He also supports research and qualitative analysis, including desktop and literature reviews, interview coding, and report proofing, while ensuring projects remain on track in accordance with client needs.

I am passionate about bringing an analytical and evidence-based lens to the evaluation of complex and interconnected systems, programs, services and policies.

Education:

- Bachelor of Arts (Media Studies), University of New South Wales, 2021
 - Bachelor of Fine Arts (Painting), University of New South Wales, 2021
 - Masters of International Relations (Country Risk Analysis), University of Sydney, 2025

Project experience: Qualitative data analysis

Drawing on his academic background in macro risk analysis, Aiden has applied his skills with quantitative data analysis to contribute to various diverse ongoing projects.
