

Alexandra Lorigan | Senior Manager

Alexandra is an experienced evaluator and project manager, who is trusted by clients for her excellent attention to detail and commitment to delivering high quality projects. She believes that the best evaluations come from working closely with clients to build trust, so the process genuinely supports their needs.

Alexandra is highly experienced in stakeholder engagement and qualitative data collection and analysis. Her passion is making evaluation safe, accessible and engaging so people with lived and/or living experience feel comfortable to contribute their voice. She balances these perspectives with other stakeholders to deliver credible insights, grounded in the communities they serve.

I really enjoy working collaboratively with clients to turn evidence into clear, grounded insights that are accepted by stakeholders and support better decision making-.
