Group interview

A group interview means people get together and answer questions.

Strategy

This is the plan for making life better for people with disability.

Help with this information

You can ask someone you trust to:

- read this information with you
- help you understand the information.

Australia's Disability Strategy

We are ARTD.

We are working on this project with 6 partner organisations.

The Government asked us to learn how Australia's Disability Strategy is working.

Australia's Disability Strategy is a plan.

The plan is about making life better for people with disability.

Governments want to know if Australia's Disability
Strategy is making a difference in people's lives.

You don't need to know about Australia's Disability
Strategy to share your thoughts with us.

This project is not about the NDIS.

Sharing your thoughts won't affect any of the funding or support you receive.

How to tell us what you think

There are 2 ways to tell us what you think:

1. take part in a group interview
2. use the online form.

Group interviews

A group interview means people get together and answer questions.

This might be in-person or online.

It will go for 2 hours.

We can support you to take part.

You can have an interpreter if you need one.

If you take part in a group interview, you will get a $145 prepaid credit card.

Use the online form

You can tell us what you think using our online form.

You can share your thoughts:

- in writing
- by video
- by audio
- images.

You can choose what works best for you.

Comparing the 2 ways to tell us what you think

Group interview	Online form
Takes 2 hours	Take the time that you need
Mostly online	Online
$145 prepaid credit card	No payment
Set time	Complete the form when it suits you
Tell us what you think by joining the group and: • talking • typing in the chat • using images	Tell us what you think using: • text • video • audio • images
We need up to 270 people to take part	Everyone can take part

Taking part is your choice

You do not have to take part. You can say no.

You can talk to someone you trust to help you choose to take part.

You can bring someone you trust when you:

- take part in a group interview
- use the online form.

If you do take part

Your ideas can help make things better for people with disability.

Taking part might make you feel upset or distressed.

If you join a group interview, you can:

- leave at any time
- choose which questions to answer
- ask us not to use what you said
- ask for support.

If you use the online form, you can choose which questions to answer.

What we do with your information

If you fill in the online form, we won't ask for your name.

If you take part in a group interview, we will record it.

If you take part, we will keep your information private.

Only our team can see it.

We will write a report about what people tell us.

We will share the report with governments.

If you take part, we will not put your name in the report.

If you choose to share any images with us, we may ask you if we can use them in our report.

We will not use any images that identify you.

You can say no if you don't want us to use your images.
